JUNE FUN FLY

By Keith Egging

Our June 26th fun fly that we had, was our May fun fly that was frozen out.

I was planning on having about 50 fliers show up, but a few little isolated showers and heavy menacing overcast kept a lot of the potentials in bed. Needless to say we had somewhat less than the 50 even though Hector and Offie had plenty of brats & beans for all and then some.

The hardy that showed up were treated to great flying weather even with ominous clouds lingering holding back their rain.

The rules were to take off, do 3 loops or rolls, climb to 200 feet, kill your engine and deadstick to the spot on the ground where the marker on the field was placed.

First place winner of the coveted solid silver "Winged Goddess of Flight" plaque was Scott Taylor with an impressive 7' 7" from the marker.

Dave West came in second place.

Leno DiDonna was our third place winner.

All attending had a good time and a brat or two.

I think our future fun flies should be scheduled with a rain date, Watcha think?

Propmasters at Barnstormers

“Washer Drop”

July 31, 2016

The event is the “Washer Drop”. You can use either a servo activated or powered dropping device or the equipment supplied by the Propmasters. The equipment available will consist of a wooden skewer, rubber bands and paper cups.

Here’s how it works:

A target will be marked on the field. Each pilot will receive an official washer. The pilot must take off and make one circuit of the field. After completing the circuit, the pilot can begin the drop run at his discretion. Dropping the “washer” is done by performing some maneuvers such as a loop, a roll, or holding inverted flight until the washer falls off the skewer or out of the cup or utilizing an onboard release device. The pilot will then land and perform a spot landing.

Rules:

1. The payload consists of a standard 5/8” steel washer. The approximate dimensions are a 1-3/4” outside diameter an 11/16” inside diameter with two 12” streamers of ribbon attached.
You must use the washer supplied by the Propmasters with no alterations.
2. The pilot must take off and make a least one circuit of the field. After completing the circuit, the pilot can begin the drop run at his discretion. Each pilot will make three drops of a washer.
3. Minimum altitude over the target is 6 feet. Washers dropped from lower than 6 feet will NOT be scored.

Scoring: The total of the distances from each of the three washer drops plus the distance from the closest of the spot landings will be the pilot’s score. The lowest 5 scores from each club will be totaled with the lowest total being the winner
