SRCB Swap – Coming Soon!

By Scott Taylor

Things are shaping up for our April 15th Swap Shop. The vendors are beginning to line up, we are getting our space organized, raffle tickets are in the mail, and our plans are falling in line!

However, one thing we always need is MANPOWER! For the past couple of years, the Fair Grounds has made things easier for us by setting up tables and chairs using their own staff, both before and after the event. So, the amount of work on Friday before the event is greatly reduced. But we still need a couple of members to help on Friday with numbering the tables and doing final setup for certain vendors, our raffle, and club table.

And of course the day of the event, our vendors are always very appreciative of the help we can provide with unloading and loading of their products. So, please plan to give us a hand. It is one of the few activities that we do that requires a significant participation from our members. And it is the most important thing we do as a club to support our financial stability.

We still have two meetings before the Swap, but please attend if you can to get additional details and, if possible, to volunteer! If there is a special task you are interested in, let us know, or you can show up and help where needed. Thanks to all!

Static Display Rescheduled for May

By Scott Taylor

April is traditionally the month when we have our member's static model display. However, this year Easter is a bit later than usual, which means our swap is a bit later than usual. If we had our static display in April, we would have the two events in the same week.

So, at the last Board Meeting, we decided to give the static model display a little breathing room by shifting it from April to May this year.

We will continue to have the three categories we have had the past couple of years, with a Scratch/Kit built, ARF, and Rotary Wing category, but we have added a clarifying rule regarding 3D printed models! They will be represented in the Scratch/Kit build category.

So, find your jewels at our April Swap and get them ready for the May Static Model Display!
